Raising Debt Ceiling Is Now Annual Event

By EDMOND LEBRETON

WASHINGTON (AP) — Raising the ceiling on the national debt has become a painful annual exercise for Congress.

This year, the task is especially difficult for Democratic leaders because at the same time they are trying to push through some version of President Kennedy's tax program.

Tax cuts mean bigger deficits, at least for a while. This is one reason the House Ways and Means Committee, after some preliminary hearings on a preliminary debt ceiling bill, put the whole distasteful question on the shelf for at least a month.

Democrats and Republicans on the committee joined in the postponement decision, but not for entirely the same motives.

Democrats are hoping the raise can be kept to a minimum, holding down resistance in Congress. The senior Republican member, Rep. John W. Byrnes of Wisconsin, left no doubt the GOP would be happy to use uncertainty over the debt limit as a lever to hold down expenditures.

Coincidentally, the decision to postpone action on a ceiling raise came on the very day the Republican congressional leadership announced a goal of trimming President Kennedy's budget by $10 billion.

Legally, the national debt cannot exceed the debt ceiling. Thus, to restrain a growing deficit, Congress usually sets the ceiling at a point not much above the anticipated high point for the debt during the year. However, when the government expects a further deficit in the next year the debt is apt to nudge the ceiling, forcing the need for a higher one.

The debt now stands at about $302.5 billion. The limit is $308 billion but will drop by stages to $285 billion by July 1 unless Congress acts.

The administration has asked for quick legislation to keep it at $308 billion until that date, and has said that it will later request another raise. This may be to as much as $325 billion, if the tax cut seems to be headed for approval.

Congress will vote on the debt limit before final action is possible on the tax bill.

Reports a Plane Fell in Ocean

PORTSMOUTH, Va. (AP)—The Coast Guard said today the Queen Elizabeth radioed that a small single-engine plane plunged into the Atlantic 235 miles south of Cape Hatteras, N.C., and sank immediately.

The ship said it saw no survivors.

The stern lookout aboard the liner said the red-nosed civilian plane pancaked into the ocean a quarter-mile off the stern of the Queen Elizabeth. The plane's canopy was intact when the craft sank.

Two vessels were diverted to the scene and two Coast Guard C130 turboprop planes were searching the area. The ships are the Esso Washington, 10 miles away, and the Ault, a Navy ship, 60 miles distant.

One of the Coast Guard search planes, in contact with the Queen Elizabeth, reported the liner said crewmen "saw plane coming in, her prop apparently dead, headed for the water. The plane pancaked and immediately went under. Saw no survivors and was on scene immediately."

The planes circled in a one-mile radius of the scene.

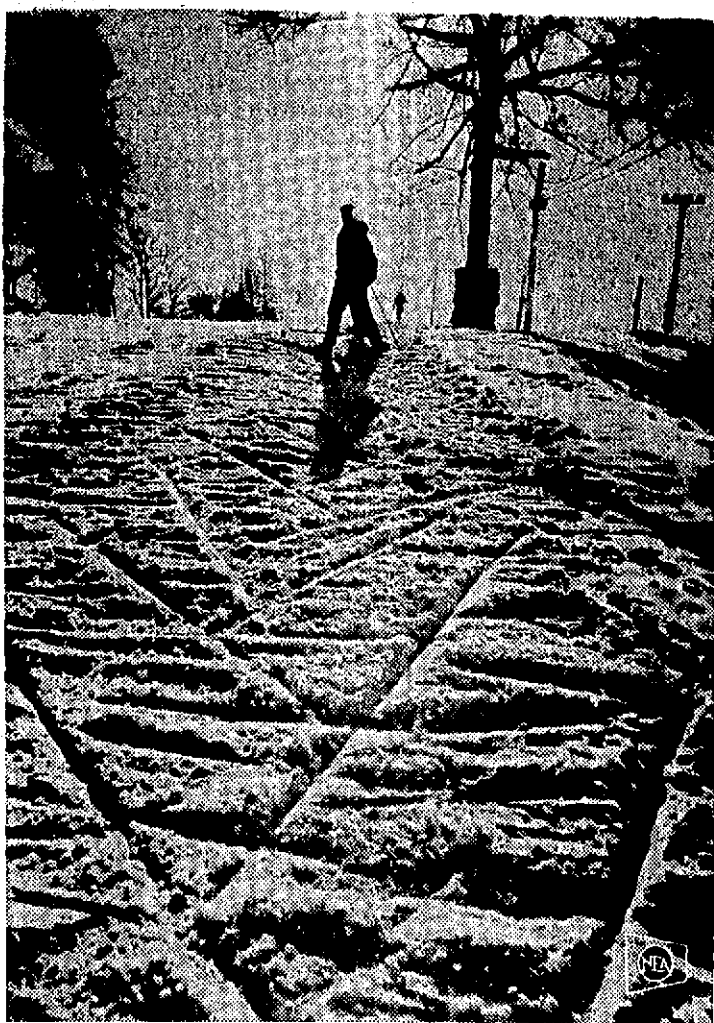

The Queen Elizabeth described the crashed plane as a single engine, low wing, with a red nose, white fuselage and black stripes on both sides.

Kennedy Meets With Cabinet

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy met with his Cabinet today for the first time in seven weeks. The White House said the session was not prompted by any special development.

Weather

Partly cloudy and warmer today and tonight with chance of scattered thundershowers tonight. Sunday, fair and warmer with light to varying winds.

It's a Long, Cold and Windy Walk

DRUMMOND ISLAND, Mich. (AP)—"It's a long, cold, wind-blown walk."

And, the way to Drummond Island this winter is even more dangerous and precarious to travel by car.

It's a bridge and a highway of ice. It stretches over a mile of open water in Lake Huron from the island to the eastern shore of Michigan's Upper Peninsula, spanning the De Tour passage.

Each school day morning and afternoon a caravan of several cars carrying high school students makes the journey across the ice bridge. The students—riding in some places on 20 inches of ice over 90 feet of water—have written permission from parents that they can make the trip.

There are 38 high school youngsters living on Drummond Island. The large, northern island and more than 600 permanent residents have been cut off from ferry service to the mainland by the worst jam of winter ice in 45 years.

Residents are both afraid of the new journey and intrigued by it. "It's kind of fun," said Clayton Ledy, a 14-year-old ninth grader at De Tour High School in the mainland village at the opposite end of the ice bridge.

Clayton makes the ride with a dozen other youngsters in a canvas-covered pickup truck.

But, to Mrs. S. A. Landerville who lives on the Drummond Island shore near the ferry dock, the trip is not delightful. "It's a long, cold, wind-blown walk," she said. "Cars have been stuck out in the middle all night."

Meteorologist Arthur Myers of the Sault Ste. Marie Weather Bureau says January and February were the two coldest months in this northern Great Lakes region since 1918.

Until Feb. 14, the Chippewa County ferry was in service. But, when the steering gear broke for the third time in the pressure of the 18 inches of ice, Capt. Hilly Seaman gave up. He tied the ferry to the dock at De Tour village on the mainland.

Missing Plane Is Sought

ROGERS, Ark. (AP)—The Federal Aviation Agency said today it is still searching for a single-engine plane believed to have made an emergency landing in a field six miles east of Rogers Thursday.

An FAA spokesman at Fayetteville said the pilot, whose last name was Troutman, called from Rogers to say he had landed and that he was not injured. He inquired about getting fuel for his plane.

Neither the pilot nor the plane have been heard from since, the FAA said. Rogers police made a check of the area described in the telephone call but found no plane.

The FAA said the plane was supposedly on its way from Pine Bluff to Rogers when the pilot possibly had taken off again.

State Police were adding in the search for the plane.

Business Around Arkansas

By GEORGE F. BARTSCH
Associated Press Staff Writer

J. T. (Pat) Stoltz, 39, left Pittsburgh, Pa., eight years ago to set up operation in Conway, Ark. for the Custommade Products Corp.

He's still in Conway, but now he owns his own business and is in the process of bringing to the central Arkansas college town the entire mannequin division of American Fixture Inc., of St. Louis, the world's third largest mannequin manufacturing company.

Stoltz, who is president of his metal stamping corporation, set up a new firm, American Mannequin Inc., and bought out the Beau Monde Mannequin Division of American Fixture.

The purchase included equipment, raw materials and work in progress.

Stoltz also will be president of American Mannequin, which will have an initial employment of 20. Stoltz pointed out that as many as 150 persons had been employed in the full operation in St. Louis.

Four supervisors were brought to Conway from St. Louis, but the remainder of the employees will be hired in the Conway area.

A sales office and display room have been established in St. Louis under the direction of Mrs. Ruth Davis, vice president in charge of sales.

The company's complete line, including men's, women's and children's mannequins and paper mache forms will be sold nationwide through a distribution network established by American Fixtures, which has operated in St. Louis for more than 40 years.

"Since I came to Arkansas, I have seen four different industries established in this area and all have done well," Stoltz said. "That sold me on bringing our mannequin operation to Conway."

Stoltz left Custommade, which manufactures such things as refrigerated cabinets for ice cream trucks and frozen food lockers, when it became a division of Universal Match Corp.

Paper mache forms are headless, limbless bodies used for displaying such things as girdles and corsets. Resins, plastic and fiber-glass are the principle materials used in making mannequins, Stoltz said.

Molds first are lined with a releasing agent which causes the mold to release the mannequin after it is "cured." A resin lining comes next, then fiberglass, and finally another lining of resins.

The mannequins are sanded by hand to remove seams. The two parts then are joined for painting.

The mannequins are sanded again after the initial painting and are repainted. They then are taken to the artistic department where "rouge" is applied and eyes and lips are painted.

Stoltz said American Mannequin would operate completely independently of Metal Stamping, a contract manufacturing company which makes such things as refrigerated truck bodies.

Other officers of the company will be Stephen S. Adams Jr. of St. Louis, vice president, and Guy Boyett of Conway, treasurer.

Castro's Men Kidnap Two Americans

NASSAU, Bahamas (AP)—Bahamas colonial authorities and the British navy collaborated today in an on-the-scene investigation of claims that Fidel Castro's men trespassed in British territorial waters to kidnap two Americans and 10 Cubans.

Colonial Secretary Kenneth Walmsley said Bahamas police would visit Elbow Cay—scene of the purported kidnap—Cay Sal and Cay Lobos today. All are outlying Bahama islands close to Cuba's North Coast.

The police are to rendezvous Sunday off Cay Sal with British navy Cmdr. J. E. L. Martin, D.S.O., senior officer of the West Indies station.

An air survey of Elbow Cay was made Friday, Walmsley said.

The officials acted after Charles Ashmann, Miami, Fla., lawyer for the captured men, protested to the Bahamas government that Castro commandoes disregarded boundaries to surprise and seize men who relied on British sovereignty over the area to make them immune to attack from Cuba.

Ashmann said the men were in the islands fishing. The Cuban radio has called them pirates, and Ashmann said he had reports that four have been executed.

The lawyer said in a Washington news conference that he has appealed to the United States and Czechoslovakia, Cuba's representative in Washington, as well as Great Britain to help keep alive the men detained.

Eight of the men, Ashmann said, were Cuban fishermen from Miami. He said they were seized by Cuban commandoes on the British island of Elbow Cay, under the mistaken impression that the fishermen were the men who recently invaded Cuba and seized two Cuban attack vessels.

Injuries Are Fatal to Prescott Man

Ernest Albert McDade, aged 55 of Laneburg, died early Friday afternoon of injuries sustained earlier in a truck-train accident at Camden. His brother was killed in the accident.

Survivors include three brothers, Clyde of Prescott, Rt. 6, Raymond and Watson McDade of Ft. Worth; two sisters, Mrs. Gracie Johnson of Prescott, Rt. 6 and Mrs. Marie McDade, Little Rock.

Services will be held at 2 p.m. Sunday at Sweet Home Church by the Rev. Raymond Hicks, assisted by Betty Stinson. Burial by Herndon-Cornelius will be in Sweet Home Cemetery.

Weather Report Was Expensive

WASHINGTON (AP)—The parents of George Basle were puzzled but proud that somehow he had learned to dial the Weather Bureau for the latest forecasts.

"We thought it was real cute and smart," said his mother, Mrs. George A. Basle. "It was a Sunday he first did it. George was praying so bad for it to snow so he could play in it, and he went over to the phone and dialed the weather all by himself. He thought he was real big."

"My husband was proud, very proud. He was walking around with his chest out. Only 6, and already he can dial the weather. We were amazed he could get it so rapidly all the time, even when the weather was bad."

That first Sunday George called the weather nine times. By Feb. 10 he had called the weather 42 times. Then the Basles received their telephone bill. Surprise, it came to $33 for toll calls. Why? George's calls all had been to the Weather Bureau in New York City.

Instead of dialing 9361212 for the recorded Washington weather forecast he had, in each of the 42 calls, prefaced the number with 212, the New York City area code for distance dialing.

But everything turned out good for poppa and George. The telephone company canceled the charges after he explained what had happened.

Sympathy to India

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy has conveyed to the people of India an expression of deep sorrow at the death of Rajendra Prasad, the first president of India.

The former president, 79, died Thursday at Patna, India.

Claims Frogmen Watch Cuba

NORFOLK, Va. (AP)—The Norfolk Ledger-Star says Navy frogmen have been operating on Cuban beaches before and after the Soviet missile crisis came to a head last October.

In an article by military writer Jack Kestner, the newspaper suggests the frogmen have learned more about the beaches and offshore waters of Cuba than Prime Minister Fidel Castro.

Kestner, who witnessed frogmen demonstrations last week in the Virgin Islands, based his story on apparent American determination to invade Cuba last fall if necessary to rid the island of Soviet missiles.

The Navy would not confirm the report.

Kestner said the vehicle for getting the frogmen to Cuba was undoubtedly the Sea Lion, the only submarine in the Atlantic Fleet specifically designed for the job.

Hopes Faint for Civil Rights Bill

By JOHN BECKLER

WASHINGTON (AP)—A partisan split in Congress over President Kennedy's proposed civil rights legislation further dims the already faint prospects that any major civil rights measures will be passed this session.

An immediate Republican reaction to Kennedy's civil rights message Thursday was to accuse the administration of seeking political gain from its proposals. Republicans called for action on their own program, which is much broader than the President's.

Kennedy himself did the cause of bipartisanship little good when he told Congress that more progress had been made in the field of civil rights during the last two years than in any comparable period in the nation's history.

A group of House Republicans who have introduced a comprehensive civil rights bill of their own countered that the only constructive civil rights legislation passed since reconstruction days came during President Dwight D. Eisenhower's Republican administration.

In a series of House speeches and in a joint statement the GOP congressmen called Kennedy's program a retreat from his party's 1960 platform and charged him with acting with his eye on the 1964 campaign.

And in New York, the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People called the President's message "admirable," but said it did not go far enough.

"It offers no new proposal for dealing with the acute problem of discrimination in housing," said the NAACP statement, "nor does it call for an effective deadline for school systems to achieve desegregation."

"Also lacking," the statement added, "as a recommendation for a federal fair employment practices law with strong enforcement powers."

Kennedy asked for legislation aimed primarily at making it easier for Negroes to vote. He also requested help for school districts in the process of desegregating and called for a four-year extension of the Civil Rights Commission.

The GOP program contains similar proposals but also includes provisions authorizing the attorney general to institute school desegregation actions in civil court and creating a commission on equality of employment opportunity.

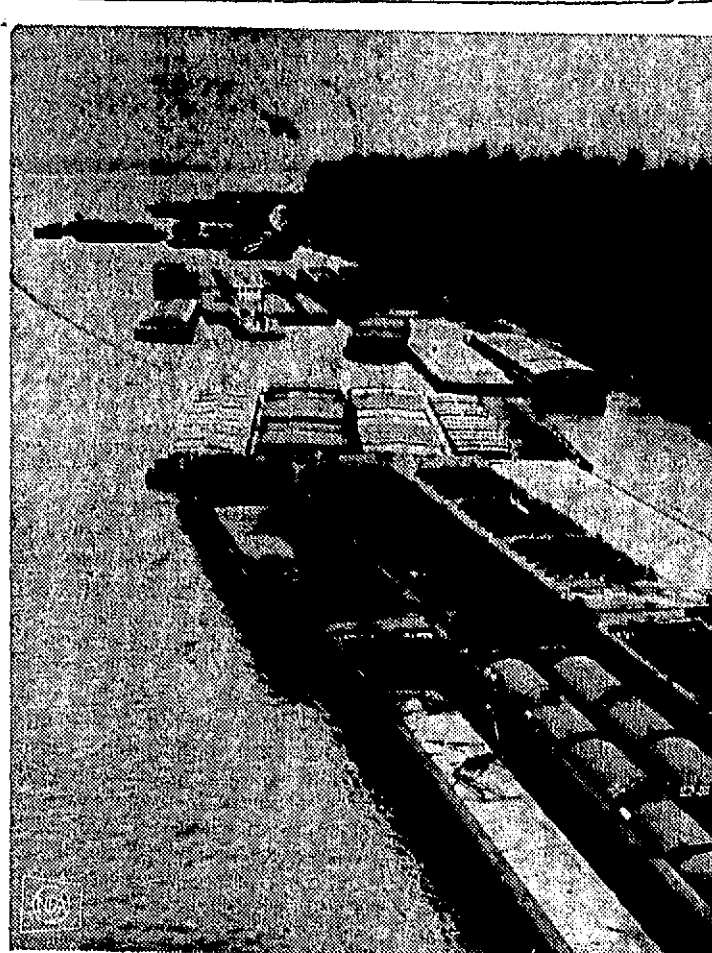

The only optimistic note came from Rep. Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., chairman of the House Judiciary Committee, which will handle the bill in the House. Celler issued a three-page statement filled with kind words for Republican champions of civil rights and expressing "confidence that the program will be carried out in a nonpartisan, nonsectional fashion."

In the Senate, even the strongest supporters of the program are of the opinion the civil rights fight for this session was lost with defeat of a drive earlier this session make it easier to end filibusters.

To Visit U.S.

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—India's minister in charge of defense procurement, T. T. Krishnamachari, plans to visit Washington and London this month to drum up more military aid for his country.

By the time he arrives, the United States and Britain will have reports from their special missions on India's needs in air defense and arms production.

Several Residents of This County Have Ancient Organs Many of Them 100 Years Old

By MARY ANITA LASETER

Since the appearance last fall of an article in the Hope Star about Mrs. W. R. Alexander's antique organ, others in town have called attention to their instruments of similar age and design. It is needless to say but the facts had to be ORGANIZED and we found several things of note.

One fact stands out in our research. Brattleboro, Vt., had a thriving organ business 100 years ago, and a number of products from there have eventually found their way to Hope. The owner of one such organ, Mrs. Ed Gorham, has an instrument which has been in her family 45 years and which was second hand when bought by them. Mrs. Gorham is the former Grace Merchant of near McCaskill.

It is believed that this organ is about 100 years old, and it is known to be over six feet in height. Besides the usual lamp stands on either side of the music rack, this lovely instrument has a mirror across the top, so the organist will know "what's going on behind her back." The most unusual phase of this organ's construction is the fact that it has six octaves. Most similar instruments have only five.

Mrs. Gorham took her first music lesson on this organ, and she treasures the antique instrument for sentimental reasons as well as its actual value. She hopes that her grandchildren will show an interest in it in future years.

Another Brattleboro-made organ in our town is owned by B. W. Edwards. But when it was made, also about 100 years ago, the Vermont manufacturers never dreamed it would ever be powered by anything but two feet pumping with all their might.

Such is not the case today, for the Edwards organ has been electrically wired. When it was discovered in a farm home in Bradley County, it was apparent that work would have to be done on the bellows. Then it was learned that it would be more economical, as well as more convenient, to install an electric blower instead of the bellows.

The beautiful, solid walnut organ is about 5½ feet in height. All the parts inside are wood with the exception of the metal reeds. Because it does not have a place to keep music in a bench-type seat, there is a place on top of the instrument for that purpose. The stool with the organ is covered with tufted green velvet.

Mr. Edwards found the organ by accident, when in Bradley County to see about guns for his collection. His two sons were a little disappointed when his discovery was not a firearm, but Mrs. Edwards and the two daughters are enjoying the improvement in sound.

East German Guard Escapes

BERLIN (AP)—An East German border guard lagged behind a comrade today and escaped across the Berlin wall.

West Berlin police said the 21-year-old private first class was patrolling along the wall with another border guard. When his comrade walked ahead of him, the guard leaned his submachine gun against the wall and scrambled across the West before the other could react.

Segregation Wall Tumbles in Atlanta

ATLANTA (AP)—Atlanta's "Berlin Wall" has come tumbling down, climaxing a racial controversy which raged for weeks in this Deep South city.

Acting swiftly after a state judge ordered the wood and steel barricades dismantled, city officials had the barriers ripped out Friday night.

The barricades—called a Berlin Wall by opponents—were erected across Peyton and Harlan roads in the city's southwest section to create a buffer zone between white and Negro residential areas.

Superior Court Judge George P. Whitman Sr. issued an order prohibiting the city from maintaining the barriers.

"Desirable as it is to promote the public peace by preventing race conflicts," the order said, "and important as is the preservation of the public peace, this aim cannot be accomplished by laws or ordinances which deny rights created or protected by the federal Constitution."

Mayor Ivan Allen Jr. said the city would not contest Whitman's ruling.

"The difficulties which brought about the necessity for the abandonment of the portions of Peyton and Harlan roads have served to focus the attention of the people of this great city to the many problems of finding ample living space for a large Negro population," he added.

The barricades were erected under an ordinance passed by the Aldermanic Board Dec. 17.

White homeowners had urged their construction to discourage the movement of Negroes into a white neighborhood. They said racial tension had increased in the area because of pressures being put on white residents to sell to Negroes.

A group of white persons and Negroes started legal action against the city to have the barricades removed.

Another development this week was the purchase of a home in the Peyton Road white section by a Negro realtor. The realtor, C. C. Thornton, said he intends to occupy the house.

Gangland Boss Dies in Brooklyn

NEW YORK (AP)—Anthony (Tough Tony) Anastasio, 57, dynamic boss of the Brooklyn waterfront who battled other leaders of the Longshoremen's Union as well as dock employers, died today in a Brooklyn hospital.

He was international vice president of the AFL-CIO International Longshoremen's Association and headed the 15,000 member ILA Local 1814 in Brooklyn.

A family spokesman said death resulted from complications following a heart attack Jan. 2.

A colorful figure, Anthony nevertheless often was overshadowed by two of his headline-making brothers: the late Albert and Joseph Anastasio.

Albert, a reputed power in the old Murder, Inc., mob, was shot dead as he sat in a barber chair in 1957. Joseph—involved at various times in murder, bookmaking and waterfront thievery—died of natural causes in 1956.

Another brother, Salvatore, is a Roman Catholic priest in the Bronx.

Born in Tropea, Italy, Albert, Joseph and Anthony shipped as deckhands when they were children and jumped ship in the United States separately between 1917 and 1924. They eventually became U.S. citizens.

Anthony had a police record dating back to 1925, with arrests on charges ranging from assault to murder. He was freed of every charge.

Anastasio, a widower, lived in Brooklyn with his daughter and son-in-law, Anthony Scottio, organizational director of Local 1814, and three grandchildren.

Missing Missile May Be Located

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP)—A long-missing experimental communications satellite, Syncom I, may have been located some 22,000 miles in space by astronomers in Ohio Africa.

An announcement from Harvard College observatory Thursday night said the 86-pound satellite is believed to have been photographed from the Boyden observatory at Bloemfontein, S.A.

Syncom I was launched aboard a Delta rocket from Cape Canaveral Feb. 14. It stopped sending radio signals back to earth only seconds later. It has been assumed to be writhing about the earth since, but its existence never has been confirmed.

DeGaulle One Who Hurt Ban Talks

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (P) — Dismay and disarray.

Those two words paint a world which all in a few weeks changed from cheery to bleary. What looked nice turned to ice. Peace became as slippery as grease.

Talk—big, hot, critical, nagging, and some of it just bombast—compounded the human predicament which for a short time, as it turned out, had seemed as quiet as a lily pad on a mill pond in the evening.

It was only a few weeks ago—after Premier Khrushchev had meekly pocketed his Cuban missiles and shut his lip—that even President Kennedy was moved to think things might be getting better.

Then French President de Gaulle threw a match in the gasoline can.

To show he looked upon the British almost as intruders in Europe, he called them "Anglo-Saxons" and blackballed membership for them in the exclusive international club called the Common Market.

And, if this wasn't enough to upset the alliance, he snubbed the United States by turning down Kennedy's still vague plan for some kind of NATO pool of nuclear weapons.

The British promptly criticized him. So did the United States. And, as if things weren't fouled up enough, the United States criticized Canada, which had been minding its own business, for not using U.S. Nuclear weapons.

The Canadians criticized back. And in England, meanwhile, Prime Minister Macmillan was being criticized for accepting Kennedy's offer of Polaris missiles instead of Skybolt missiles which Americans now said weren't as good.

Dismay swept Congress when it began to realize Khrushchev was playing with a marked deck. He had pulled his missiles out of Cuba but not thousands of Soviet troops. So it turned out, he wasn't being so meek after all.

Republicans in Congress criticized Kennedy's foreign policy. Democrats in Congress criticized Republicans for criticizing Kennedy which, they said, was certainly contrary to bipartisan foreign policy as they understood it.

The Red Chinese had been nagging their Russian friends for talking peaceful coexistence and the Russians nagged them for being reactionaries for not wanting it.

Western eyes got big with a luminous look: They envisioned a kind of Communist earthquake which would split apart the Communist world. The eyes clouded, however, when Khrushchev fell all over the Chinese ambassador at a party.

The Chinese, who could recognize soft soap when they smelled it, nagged harder than ever. And two days later, with almost strident criticism, they showed they were not mollified at all.

Right at this point Khrushchev announced Russia would defend Red China from attack. This must have astonished the Chinese since nobody had been attacking them or even talking of it, I probably didn't change them.

Meanwhile Khrushchev had set the Americans to biting at one another by suddenly promising to remove some of his troops in Cuba but not all. He didn't have to be a magician to figure what came next.

Demands in this country that Kennedy get the Russians out of Cuba although how he could do it without getting into war with Russia is something no one has explained yet.

While all this got the kettle boiling like in the olden days of a few months ago, two planes, which the United States said had come from Cuba, attacked a shrimp boat between this country and Cuba. Fidel Castro denied the charge.

The boat was unmarked and unlit and the two-man crew was uninjured.

Always Run Out of Things Around House

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—A house is a place where you can count on it that you are sure to run out of something you need.

Every home, be it hovel or palace, has a lack.

The mountains of real loss that confront us sometime during our existence are inescapable. These we take with a gasp. The splendor of our ordinary is made extraordinary by a disappearance, and we close ranks and go on. That is all we can do. We accept the major inevitability.

But it is the minor inevitabilities that rub us raw, the small dooms that we feel we could have avoided by proper planning.

We live on the frontier of an amazing plenty, but it seems to be our fate that we always run short of essential items.

I don't know how your household is, but I'll tell you how my household is.

We don't miss milk coats, yachts, and diamonds. These we can get along without tidily. It is the things we can afford that we don't have.

For example, our home is chronically short of bathroom tissue, shoelaces, light bulbs, aspirin, soda water and canned chicken noodle soup.

Year after year I have had to face these shortages. We live across the street from a supermarket which stocks some 30,000 items.

Yet when a light bulb burns out we have none to replace it, there is never enough soda water in the refrigerator, and there is rarely a can of chicken noodle soup. On the other hand, half a dozen cans of beef and vegetable soup always adorn the shelves.

"I spent five years with the U.S. Army on three continents avoiding canned beef and vegetable stew," I frigidly inform my wife, Frances. "And I'd rather die now than eat a can of beef and vegetable soup."

"Oh, go ahead and die then," she says placidly. "I'm on the way to the laundromat, and can't be bothered with you now."

Once I got so irritated over the problem of broken shoelaces that I bought a dozen black pairs. Sure enough, the very next morning I snapped a shoelace. It was brown.

One of these days I am going to go across the street and bring back 1,000 rolls of bathroom tissue, 875 light bulbs, 45 cases of soda water, 112 bottles of aspirin, and hundreds and hundreds of cans of chicken noodle soup.

One of these days...

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The state Teacher Retirement board has sold $1,544,500 in low-interest securities for purpose of re-investment of the funds in higher-yield bonds. Stephens, Inc., Southern Securities, Inc., Raney Securities, Inc. and the First U.S. Corporation were purchasers. The bonds carried three per cent interest.

injured, but some members of Congress called for "hot pursuit" the next time it happened although they didn't know how or why it happened the first time.

Americans were still nursing their feelings over this escapade when Soviet Defense Minister Rodion Malinovsky—although why he butted in isn't clear—announced an American attack on Cuba meant war with Russia.

And Wednesday Khrushchev denounced American "wild men" for talking about invading Cuba and practically promised to eat the "Big Sharks" of America "imperialism."

So things are back to normal and everybody can relax for half a second.

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen: I'm wildly in love with a man whose life follows a more opulent course than mine. He's been divorced, has two children and lives in a big house staffed by servant's long in his family. We planned to marry this spring.

Now he's pressing me to marry him this month and I'm scared that I won't be equal to the social demands such as the giving and going to parties.

The self-assurance so necessary in this light, bright, competitive world of his is lacking in me. Fearing that I can't make him happy, should I tell him so? It will break my heart if we call quits. Yet maybe it's only fair to him. Do you agree?—Confused.

Dear Dorothy: If your love for this man is strong enough, you will be equal to all crises, social or otherwise. The power to do so lies latent within you. Give this God-given ability a chance by taking a positive attitude. Join a class in public speaking to establish self-confidence. Read "The Strategy of Creative Thinking" by Bernard Goldner, Study Natta Lee's "Complete Book of Entertaining." But above all, never sell yourself short!

Dear Helen: My husband and I love children. In addition to our own six-month-old baby girl we have adopted a Korean orphan and also care for the four-year-old son of a friend. This little boy's three-year-old brother is being looked after by my husband's parents. Therein lies our problem.

The three-year-old is completely undisciplined; knocks down and jumps on my babies, snatches food from everybody's plate at table and howls like a Banshee when he doesn't get his own way. My in-laws think him an angel and his darling brother—the one who lives with us, a demon. Actually, the boy we have taken into our home is one of the nicest, well-mannered youngsters going. This silly rivalry between us and the in-laws is getting me down. What can I do?—Hurt Deeply and Family.

Dear Helen: See that the little brothers are sent back to their parents where they belong. For their own good and your peace of mind—make this your major project.

Dear Helen: My husband's aunt stuffs her mouth with bread while talking at table. Other members of the family hesitate to have her visit them for this reason. She is a good-hearted soul and I wouldn't hurt her feelings, but her lack of table manners is getting me down. And what's worse, the children are aping her. My husband says "Let her enjoy herself." If I do, we'll all be eating like monkeys.—Martyr

Dear Martyr: As Auntie to help in teaching the children good

Cubans Charge Ship Rammed

HAVANA (AP)—Cuba charged today that a U.S. destroyer based at Guantanamo Bay rammed a Cuban coastal vessel carrying food to a north coast Cuban town.

An official report carried in Havana newspapers identified the U.S. destroyer as the Harold J. Ellison.

It asserted the destroyer steamed in close to the 75-foot Joven Amalia Feb. 23, took photographs of it for 45 minutes, then "flung herself deliberately against her (the Cuban boat), causing serious damage to the port side."

The newspaper accounts indicated no formal protest had been filed by the Cuban government.

table manners. Give her a copy of Emily Post's "Etiquette" for a textbook with the suggestion that she study it too. Practice the rules at table.

Dear Helen: The little no-good who signed herself "Troublemaker" makes me sick. I am 15 and have never worn either lipstick or rouge nor do I intend to till my 16th birthday, then it will be a very light shade.

This is my idea and my parents approve. All the girls in our neighborhood agree. Please print this for the benefit of Troublemaker. The name sure fits her. I go along with you and always have.—Janet, Pawtucket.

Send your problem to Helen Worden Erskine. Be sure to enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope and address her care of this newspaper. Helpful leaflets available. Write for "Teenage Code."

Linkletter Hopeful for His Program

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Life in the television boiler factory would be more pleasant if the audience could see the eighth show instead of the first of a new series. But Linkletter isn't dismayed nor downhearted when that first show doesn't come off as well as he hoped.

"After 30 years in broadcasting," says the busy veteran of thousands of afternoon and evening shows, "I still don't how to start a new show except to begin—in front of God and the television audience."

Linkletter's new evening show on NBC kicked off recently with what might charitably be called mixed critical notices. But sing no sad songs for this enthusiastic, pleasant man.

"I've been doing 'House Party' for 18 years, 52 weeks a year," he continued, stabbing at a melon slice in his luncheon fruit salad. "I can walk in, nod to one man or another, and get ahead with the show. Everybody knows what to do and how to do it? We've been together that long."

"But when you start a new show, it means assembling a new crew and learning how to work together—that's why they have so much trouble with specials."

He grinned, shrugged and remarked: "It will all straighten itself out, given a little time."

Linkletter, an old pro, has done so well over the years, and invested his earnings so wisely and widely, that today he is financially independent—very rich, to put it baldly.

Among other things, he owns a 700,000-acre sheep ranch in Australia, 7,000 square miles in the oil country of Argentina, a chain of 200 dancing schools in the United States, an airport in Arizona, and is building three subdivisions, including a trailer park for older people.

He also has a wife, with whom he enjoys traveling, and five children—four of whom are still at home.

He is, in a word, a happy, busy, successful man.

Sheriff Ordered to Accept Bonds

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Garland County Sheriff Duffie Searcy was ordered Thursday by the Arkansas Supreme Court to accept $12,500 bonds for two men held on robbery charges.

Circuit Judge P. E. Dobbs of Hot Springs had instructed Searcy not to accept bonds provided by United Bonding Insurance Co. of Indianapolis, Ind.

Bondsman C. R. (Rudy) Burgess of Texarkana refused to post $5,000 bond with the court, which Dobbs requires.

The Supreme Court did not pass opinion on the lower court, but said United's bonds were good.

The men in question, Julian Perez and Manuel Zurita, filed a habeas corpus petition with the high tribunal for their release.

Says Cuba Trains Latin Guerrillas

WASHINGTON (AP)—Central Intelligence Agency Director John A. McCone says at least 1,000 to 1,500 Latin Americans went to Cuba in 1962 for sabotage and guerrilla training, and more have gone this year.

McCone's statement was given to the House Foreign Affairs Committee on Feb. 19. It was released today after security deletions.

Rep. Armistead Selden, D-Ala., said he had asked McCone to include in the statement information that had been brought out by questions from committee members. The statement as released to reporters, however, was labeled as a prepared statement that was read to the committee that day by McCone.

Selden heads an Inter-American Affairs subcommittee which has held two weeks of hearings on Cuban subversion in the Western Hemisphere.

McCone, while disclosing little that has not been made public previously, painted a graphic picture of a parade of revolutionaries going to Cuba for training, taking pains to conceal their travel movements, and receiving up to a year's instruction on such things as how to use arms and how to build homemade "Molotov cocktail" bombs.

Ship Finally Out of Danger

NEW YORK (AP)—The German freighter Adele Ohlrogge, which reported being in trouble Thursday on the stormy Atlantic and then radioed she was out of danger, is proceeding without incident toward her destination, the Coast Guard said today.

The 449-foot vessel, with 36 crewmen aboard, messaged she was sinking, 1,500 miles due east of New York.

A Coast Guard plane and the cutter Castle Rock were sent out and ships in the area were alerted. Then the freighter said all was well.

The freighter's home port is Brake, Germany. She left New York Feb. 23, bound for Oran, Algeria, with a cargo of soy beans and waste paper.

17 to Appeal Convictions

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Seventeen salesmen of the Lenders Service Co., Inc., of Arkansas are appealing their convictions in a North Dakota mail fraud trial to the U.S. Court of Appeals at St. Louis.

The 17 were convicted in a mass trial of keeping fees for obtaining loans even though the loans were never obtained. Several thousand persons said they were victims of the operation.

The appellants contend the jury became too confused to carry out justice.

The trial began March 14, 1961, in U. S. Dist. Court at Bismarck, N.D. After three months, 2,700 exhibits and 15,000 pages of testimony, the case went to the jury.

The 17 appellants received prison sentences of up to five years.

Students Clash in Belgium

LOUVAIN, Belgium (AP)—Walloon and Flemish students clashed here Thursday in a new outbreak between the often hostile Belgian ethnic groups.

The fighting began after the French speaking Walloons gathered to protest against the planned division of Louvain University into Flemish and Walloon faculties. The Walloons claimed the division would harm the university's prestige.

Late Show Sat. at Saenger Also, Sunday - Monday

Robert Mitchum reprimands his rebellious son, George Hamilton, in a scene from "Home from the Hill," MGM film version of George Humphrey's best-selling novel. Eleanor Parker plays Mitchum's embittered wife, with other leading roles portrayed by George Peppard, Everett Sloane and Lanna Patten. The picture, filmed in CinemaScope and color, was directed by Academy Award-winner Vincente Minnelli.

Starts Tuesday at Saenger

"Oklahoma!" stars Gordon McRae, Shirley Jones, Gloria Grame, Gene Nelson, Charlotte Greenwood, Eddie Albert, James Whitmore and Rod Steiger in the Rogers & Hammerstein great musical.

Fire Is Fatal to Five Children
SAYRE, P. (AP)—Five children died today in a fire which destroyed their two story home on the outskirts of this northeast Pennsylvania town.
The parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Johnson and three other children, escaped.
The dead are Allen, 18; William, 10; Kevin, 9; Jane Ann, 7, and Carol May, 3.
Rose, 19; Sharon, 13; and Roger, 11, were saved.
Authorities said four of the children were trapped upstairs and that Allen tried to save them but himself was trapped as the flames roared up a stairwell.

Hope, Malvern in District Final Tonight

By VINCE FOSTER

The Hope Bobcats powered their way into the finals of the District 4AA playoffs at Malvern with an impressive 68-45 win over Crossett. This win in the semi-finals of the tournament insured the Bobcats of a berth in the State AAA-AA Tournament to be held in Little Rock next week. Tonight at about 8:15 the Bobcats meet the host team, Malvern, for the district championship. A Hope win tonight would give Coach Billy Mitchell and his Bobcats their 3rd straight district championship, each by a win over the host team in the district tournament. Fairview and Crossett will battle for the remaining state journey berth and 3rd place in the district at 7 to-night.

The Bobcats started as strong as they finished, picking up an early 14-5 first quarter lead. The second quarter found the Cats stretching their lead to 32-12 by halftime. In the third period David Porterfield tossed in five field goals for ten points, enabling the Cats to hold a 51-27 lead. Crossett barely outscored the locals 18-17 in the final period against Hope subs, closing the Hope lead to a final 23 point spread 68-45.

"THIS IS

...THE BAR OF JUSTICE IN MY COURT.
"Man must pay for the error he makes, the sin he commits... he must reap what he sows." Surely God tempers justice with mercy in His judgments upon us every day. It is that way too, in this judge's court, because he thinks principally of salvation for the man before him. Too often transgressors, both young and old, resent the kindly-intended judge. He sits in court to serve his country and the will of God.
It would be well to remember that God shall bring every work into judgment.
And that people who go to church more,
go to court less.
